Ramblings

There are a few thing I want to tell you about and remind you of:

You need to know that we are nearing the end of an excellent study on the book of Daniel led by DennyJohnson. Denny has done a great job and has shown some perspectives I hadn't considered before. If you missed the study you really missed out. Starting June 1st our Summer Series starts with Brother Sean O'Brien speaking. It's become sort of a tradition having him lead off. Sean is an excellent young speaker with a beautiful family and I'm anxious to see them all again. Try and make all the series. There will be 13 lessons and you shouldn't miss a single one.

Thanks to your generosity we have been making progress in getting our building loan paid down. As of this writing we have a balance of roughly $110,000. To accomplish this we have really been tightening our belt. We have been trying to stay with the "have to haves" and omit the "nice to haves". We have a fifth Sunday coming up so let's see what we have after that.

I'm often asked about heaven, what it's like – where it is etc. I found this story somewhere and think you may like it.

A sick man turned to his doctor as he was leaving the examination room and said "Doctor, I'm afraid to die. Tell me what lies on the other side?" the doctor told him he didn't know. "What do you mean you don't know? You're a Christian man and you don't know what's on the other side?" The doctor was holding the door knob and there was a scratching and whining on the other side. He opened the door and a dog sprang through the door and leapt on him with an eager show of gladness. The doctor turned to the patient and said "Did you notice my dog? He's never been in this room before. He didn't know what was inside. He only knew that his master was inside and when the door opened he jumped in without fear. I don't know what is on the other side of death but I do know one thing –I know my master is there and that is enough!"

Please pray for our sick. Pray for our country. Pray for our church. And pray for each other. Ed Smithpeters
