PRAYERS

Do you need prayers? Whether it's health, personal, or for others we will pray for you!

Sharon Berrong, Pat Gibson, Jullian Pressley, Almeda Cooper, Uli Ricketts, Causie Crane, Eileen Wood, Sarah Sheats, James Ellis, Gloria Ansley, Brandon Parker, Timmy Thomas, Art & Edwina Hein, Tim West, Kathy Hughes, The Bowden's, Brenda West, Harry Wise, Karon Sims and many others!

A the Summer Series last evening we had a young speaker that talked about the home. As he was speaking I got to thinking about what a beautiful word that is "Home". To me that's one of the most comforting words I know. "Home". Once I heard a song entitled "home is where the heart is". That's true. But home is so much more than that. When we get hurt we don't want to go to the doctor, we want to go home. If we're in the hospital all we want is to get out and go home. When we get off work we want to go home. When life hands us disappointments, when we experience failures, when our countenance is low, all we want is to get to the security and comfort of home. During my working days I was on an airplane almost every week. I was fortunate to visit some interesting places. We have had the good luck to be able to see some beautiful places. But the best part of any trip is when we get home.

But what about after we pass from this life? Where will our home be? It will be one of two places. One place is the most perfect place you could ever be. You would be with God and surrounded by the Saints. A place so peaceful and beautiful that you can't even imagine it. The other place is exactly the opposite. It's a place of continual suffering and misery. It's a place devoid of God.

Now here's the best part. We get to decide which one we get. There is no lottery, drawing or random event that decides. It's totally up to us. Our home for eternity can be good or bad. We have a book with the instructions on how to get to the good place Follow it and you are assured of a place. All it takes for the bad place is to do nothing. Pick which one you want.
